

COMMERCE CLUB HEARS J. E. BROWN

General Manager of Large
Wholesale Company Gives
His Opinions on International Trade

"Some Aspects of International Trade" was the subject of the interesting and instructive address given to the Commerce Club at the regular luncheon Tuesday at noon by Mr. J. E. Brown, general manager and vice-president of Revillon's Wholesale.

Starting with a very complete account of the Wembley Exhibition, Mr. Brown gave the club the benefit of his observations of the different countries of Europe which he has just visited.

"Wembley was the most perfect show ever produced. There could be only one criticism," said Mr. Brown. "There was a lack of information regarding the exhibits. The conservative Englishman had produced a marvellous exposition, but had not taken the trouble to sell it. India was the only country represented that advertised and sold her products, and this was the ultimate object of the exhibition."

"The Canadian Building" was the most beautiful at the exposition," said Mr. Brown.

The standard of living, Mr. Brown found to be a little lower in England. The desire for education and social attainment also was much less than in our own country. The "dole" system and its ruinous effect on the workman's morale was fully explained, and possible expedients suggested, but, as Mr. Brown pointed out, the problem is a grave one for any government to tackle.

France, Belgium and Germany were also described, and the speaker's impressions of the people, their industries and their methods of trade in each country were contrasted. The mass production of Germany is very much like that carried on in America, whereas in England and France are to be found numerous small factories producing individual articles in small quantities, no standardization as is found here in America and in Germany.

Dealing with the question of tariffs, Mr. Brown gave it as his opinion that the policy of free trade of England would have to be much changed if England is to maintain her position of industrial supremacy among the countries of Europe.

In closing, Mr. Brown gave to the students a few words of friendly advice drawn from his thirty years of business experience: "Know yourself first, and then apply yourself to that field of endeavor you find yourself naturally fitted for."

Mr. Race, in thanking the speaker for the address, expressed the many favors that have been extended to the students by Mr. Brown and his firm, expressed the feelings of every member of the club when he said that they were indeed fortunate in having such an opportunity of associating their education at the University with the men and methods of actual business, and that their appreciation was indeed genuine.

BASKETBALL OPENER

The basketball season opens next Tuesday evening at 8:00 p.m., when Varsity will clash with the 49th Battalion team at the Armories.

Varsity have been city champions for the past six years, and will do their best to repeat this year. But the 49th boast a splendid team that will take some beating. A hard-fought battle is assured for Tuesday evening, and Varsity rooters should turn out en masse to support their team.

FATE OF SENATE STILL UNDECIDED

Inter-Varsity Debating Team
Hard at Work—Expert Coaching Assured Alberta's
Representatives

An hour and a half of very argumentative discussion took place in Room 212 Arts, after 4:30 on Tuesday, when the inter-varsity debating team met with its judges to determine what lines of attack should be taken in the coming debate, viz., as to whether or not the Senate of Canada should be abolished. The judges, Professors Burt and Alexander, Drs. Hardy, Gordon and MacDonald, and Mr. Drummond, gave a great deal of sound advice, and it is felt that, by a continuation of strong co-operation by all who are sharing in this preparation, very desirable results will be obtained.

At a previous meeting of minor importance the team, by the advice of Messrs. Long and Drummond, was tentatively divided as follows: Don MacKenzie and Ray Klinck for the affirmative, i.e., for the abolition of the Senate, and Eric Cormack and Max Wershof for the negative. Don Ramsey is keeping up-to-date, and it is certain, should any of the members of the team be forced to drop out for any reason there will be an able man ready to step into the breach.

The debate is scheduled to take place on Friday, February 6. The negative team travels to Saskatoon this year, whereas the affirmative remains at home to cope with the negative team from Winnipeg.

LIBRARY RULES NOT OBSERVED

Court Fines Student for Defacing
Book—Heavy Penalty For Offenders in Future

A fine of two dollars, with the admonition that an apology be sent to the library board, was the sentence given by the Court Wednesday afternoon, in the case against a student charged with defacing a library book by cutting a chart from it. In giving the sentence, however, Chief Justice Bryan threw out the warning that in the future such cases would be more severely dealt with. This case is the first of its kind where prosecution has taken place, though a number of cases of a similar kind have occurred in the past.

The student against whom the charge was laid pleaded guilty. In defence he pointed out that he did not know the value of the chart at the time, and thought it easily replaceable. After realizing the value of the volume, he saw the librarian immediately and offered to make suitable amends.

The Chief Justice, in reviewing the case, pointed out that such an offence not only meant a loss to the library, but that defacing books, or what more commonly happens, taking books out without a card and keeping them for a long period, is unfair to the student body. He pointed out that since the accused had not been the only offender in the past, the sentence was necessarily a light one, but that in future such cases would be more severely dealt with.

YEAR BOOK SHOWS GOOD PROGRESS

This Year's Edition Ample Illustrated—Advertising and Sales
Well Under Way

Good progress is being made in compiling the fifth annual Evergreen and Gold. A rough draft of the new volume has already been completed, and provisions have been made for an elaborate extension of several phases of the work.

The addition of an artist to the staff, combined with the willingness of several other local contributors, is proving a boon to the book, which is being lavishly illustrated throughout.

A large number of the cuts have been prepared, and many new additions are being made to the book in this respect. This has been made possible largely through a great reduction in the printing tender.

The business management report very favorable progress in both the circulation and advertising departments. Several salesmen have "sold out" their books, and are back for more. Approximately $300 worth of advertising has been solicited to date, of which amount $200 is on contract.

It has been the effort of the staff handling each year book in the past to have some new feature added which would improve the book and be of interest to the students buying it.

This year it has been decided to have a humorous section in the volume containing jokes on members of the student body, similar to the type found in Casserole, while there also will be a number of cartoons, illustrated anecdotes and short humorous sketches.

The section will occupy several full pages, and will extend throughout the advertising columns.

SOLAR ENERGY DISCUSSED AT CHEMICAL SOCIETY

On January 7th the Chemical Society met in Room 136 Medical building. Tea was served from 4:30 until 5:00.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Kutz then spoke on the Photosynthesis of Sugars. The first speaker took up the historical and economical side of the subject. He mentioned a number and went on to show that the present civilization is dependent on the use of solar energy stored up by the photosynthesis of plants, extending over a period of millions of years, and that, unless scientists came to the rescue all the coal and oil would be used up within three or four hundred years. It is therefore imperative for mankind to solve the photosynthetic process used by plants for the utilization of solar energy, in order to keep the present standards of life in the future.

Mr. Kutz, the second speaker, presented Baeyer's hypothesis of the photosynthesis of sugars by the green plant, which considers formaldehyde to be an intermediate stage in the building up of carbon dioxide to hexose sugars. After a consideration of the experimental work done on this theory it was decided that it was far from being substantiated.

Mr. Tomlinson, the president, then announced that Mr. Scroggie would speak at the next meeting on the subject of "Poisons."

Dr. Klotz Outlines Medical Conditions in Brazil

Professor of Pathology From Toronto Speaks Before Medical Club
—Gives Impressions of Country, and Describes Work There
For Rockefeller Foundation

Dr. Klotz, professor of pathology at the University of Toronto, was the speaker at a well-attended meeting of the Med club held Wednesday evening, his subject being "Medical Conditions in Brazil."

Dr. Klotz, a visitor to the city, was introduced by Dean Rankin. The speaker, while professor of pathology at the University of Pittsburgh, was requested by the Rockefeller Foundation to undertake the organization of medical education in Brazil. Dr. Klotz accepted the appointment, spending two successful years in that part of Latin America. The speaker opened his address, which was spiced with apt illustration and humor, by outlining political, economic and social conditions in the big republic of Brazil, and with this background followed by describing the important phases of his work in that country.

Conditions in Brazil
In a graphic manner the speaker described the people and the industries by which they lived. The Brazilian is a man of mixed blood—the negro, Portuguese or Indian may be included in his ancestral tree. There are no color lines, but there is an economic classification into the poor and wealthy classes. Among the latter are those who own the huge coffee plantations, which thrive so well on the brick red soil of the southern plateau; the poorer class, originally immigrants of a low class from Italy, comprise a huge body that, illiterate and poverty stricken, make their daily living as laborers on these plantations. With such economic conditions, and with only the mere rudiments of free education offered by the state, it is essentially the sons of the aristocracy that are privileged to carry out a medical course.

The government, Dr. Klotz showed, was but a republic in name, and its degree of corruption can be surmised from the fact that, ever since its inception in 1881, the same government has been able to hold office. It is not to be inferred, however, that this affects the medical schools of Brazil, which are controlled by the government.

Medical Schools
Most of these medical schools are still largely bound down to the system under which they were formed in 1881—a system whereby lectures and the didactic method of teaching is stressed and practical laboratory work is minimized. But in the state of Sao Paulo, to which Dr. Klotz's mission took him, there was one school which, unorthodox in this way, favored the practical method of teaching. It was to this school, not under government control, that Dr. Klotz was commissioned to go by the Rockefeller Foundation, and it was here he carried out successfully his efforts to establish a medical course based on practical laboratory work. Such was the success of his

SING-SON IN ATHABASCA HALL

Men's House Committee Entertains Students in Lounge
Sunday Evening

On Sunday evening about one hundred residence students gathered in the lounge of Athabasca Hall, guests of the Men's House Committee. The glowing fire created a cheery and homey atmosphere. Groups of students gathered around the piano to enjoy the informal sing-song, which consisted of such old favorites as "Old Black Joe," "Killarney," "My Old Kentucky Home." Miss Ernestine Copney played the piano during the evening. Refreshments, rivaling those of the ladies in their daintiness, were served by the men. Miss Edith Hamilton poured. Miss Russell and the Men's House Committee are to be congratulated on the success of this attempt to brighten up the usually monotonous Sunday evening in residence.

SKATING CARNIVAL FOR LATE JANUARY

Madame Bourque and Olaf Anderson to Perform at Big Event

The Edmonton Skating Carnival for 1925 will be held on the 23rd and 24th of January. The Carnival this year is in every respect a community event, fostered by the Federation of Community Leagues and assisted by the Glenora Skating Club.

The Alberta speed skating championships will be held these two nights. The finals of the inter-community league races for the Winkler trophy will also be held, and the holder of the Blatchford Cup, emblematic of the championship of Western Canada, will be decided for 1925.

A fine programme of fancy skating will be put on by over one hundred members of the Glenora Skating Club in fancy costumes. These features will be headed by Mme. Bourque, professional of the Glenora Skating Club, and Olaf Anderson, professional of the Winnipeg Skating Club, who will give a wonderful exhibition of pair and solo skating. Olaf Anderson is credited with being one of the very finest exponents of the art of skating in America, and Mme. Bourque, while a local product, is one of which the city of Edmonton can well be proud. Some of the features to be put on by the Glenora Skating Club are: A grand march ending with ten-step, a waltzing competition when the winner will be decided by vote of the audience, the very laughable musical chairs on ice, spirals of all sorts, and a special set figure by four popular Edmonton young ladies, besides comedy features galore.

To wind up each night there will be a grand fancy dress competition open to all holders of reserved seats and for which prizes will be given for the best costumes, these decisions to be made by committee. It is expected that the speed and fancy skating programme will last from 8:00 to 10:00 or 10:30, after which the ice will be thrown open to those in costume for an hour or more.

Tickets can be had at Joe Simpson's and Joe Driscoll's Sporting Goods Stores. Box seats, $1.00; reserved, 50c and 75c; rush 25c.

PAGE FOR WRITERS TO BE ISSUED SOON

Gateway Will Have a Literary Supplement at End of This Month

Students of the University who think that they have some literary ability will be able to display this in the last issue of The Gateway this month, which will include a Literary Supplement.

The issue of this extra sheet is a new departure as far as the University paper is concerned, and is the result of a decision arrived at early in the academic year to make The Gateway as much a newspaper as possible, whose contents should deal mainly with subjects of interest to the student body as a whole.

It had formerly been the practice to print what literary efforts were handed in, as room was found for them in the ordinary issues of The Gateway. While this will be continued in a smaller degree it is thought that the issue of a literary supplement at regular intervals will satisfy the desire of the students for light reading matter as well as provide those students who take an interest in writing with a better outlet for their productions.

The supplement on January 29 will take the form of a single sheet of usual size issued with the rest of the paper, and will contain purely literary matter.

Some material for this is already at hand, but much remains to be gathered, and students who have any poems, sketches or short stories available should hand them in as soon as possible to Geoffrey Hewelcke, who has charge of the Literary Supplement.

FRESHMAN ELECTIONS

These will be held on Wednesday at 4:30 p.m., in Convocation Hall. Nominations must be submitted to the secretary of the Students' Union not later than Saturday, Jan. 17. The secretary will be at The Gateway office, 181 Arts Building, between the hours of 11:30 and 12:30 on Saturday. Turn your nominations in on time.

YEAR PLAY DATES DECIDED AT MEET

Event Will Take Place Two Weeks After Med Night,
Probably March 12 and 13

The cast of the "Admirable Crichton" held its first meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Arts Building, to discuss plans for its future rehearsals, under the leadership of Professor Adam of the Math Department. The cast will remain the same except for Treherne, which part is to be taken by Mr. R. Clark, and Fisher, to be played by Miss H. Boyle. A tentative date has been set for the year play, March 12 and 13, two weeks after Med night.

Professor Adam outlined in detail his proposed way of management so that the business of the play could be undertaken at once with no misunderstanding as to intentions. He particularly stressed the importance of constant rehearsals, so it was suggested that for the next eight weeks before the play is to be given, there be three rehearsals a week. If it is at all possible the cast wish to practise from the beginning in Convocation Hall. The great difficulty at present lies in arranging the time of these practices to suit each member. Professor Adam insisted that this work should in no way interfere with lecture or study hours, but he also stated that he considered dramatic work a very important part of a university course, and that in some universities credit was given for it in the English department.

His plan is to rehearse the play in sections and then dovetail it together until the actors are perfected in their roles. He asked the cast for their co-operation in suggesting different and better conceptions of the parts. For the present Mr. Clark is to do the prompting to give Professor Adam a free hand in managing and directing.

The question of costumes then arose, and Professor Adam took the opportunity to give some very valuable advice regarding this. "English ladies of the aristocracy are always very quietly dressed in their own homes. The tendency of the west, particularly the American movie, is to present the English gentlewoman bedecked in gaudy finery and startling jewelry," said Prof. Adams, as he warned the lady members of the cast against departure from utter simplicity in their costumes in the play. He advised them to get, if possible, illustrated papers of twenty years ago. His main object is to get the proper atmosphere.

The first rehearsal of the "Admirable Crichton" is to be held in Convocation Hall, Friday afternoon, at 3:30 p.m. Copies of the book have been sent for, and are expected to come in at the end of the week.

Professor Adam is to be congratulated on getting work on the play under way so quickly and so thoroughly. The entire University is looking forward to the event with a great deal of interest and anticipation.

It is predicted that under his able management the major dramatic function of 1925 will be even a greater success than in former years.

FRESHMAN CLASS NOW TO ORGANIZE

Meeting Held Wednesday Evening
Makes Plans For Election
—President Levey Presides at Meeting

Nominations close at 1 o'clock Saturday, January 17, and elections take place at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, January 21. These two decisions were arrived at definitely by a meeting of the Freshman class regarding the election of officers, in Convocation Hall on January 7.

Mr. Levey, President of the Students' Union, pointed out in opening the meeting, that its object was to make preparations for the final organization of the Freshman class. Several questions must be dealt with before the elections could go on, chief among them being the date for nominations and elections, and also whether Freshmen and Freshettes who have not paid their class fees should be allowed to vote. Acting on Mr. Levey's suggestion, it was decided that nominations must be in before 1 o'clock Saturday, and that elections should take place in Convocation Hall on January 21. Nominations must be in writing and signed by ten Freshmen or Freshettes together with the signature of the candidate, signifying that he or she is willing to run for office. Six officers must be elected—a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and three executive members; and, as Mr. Levey indicated, it was customary to have at least the vice-president and one member of the executive from the fairer sex. Immediately before the election takes place each candidate will be given an opportunity of addressing the voters and letting them know "who's who" in the list of candidates.

Considerable discussion was evoked when the students were confronted with the problem of whether Freshmen who have not paid their fees should be permitted to vote. Many arguments were brought up on both sides, but it was finally decided that every eligible Freshman and Freshette should be given a vote, regardless of whether fees had been paid or not.

In closing, Mr. Levey warned the students not to elect a person to office just because he was popular, because the work of an officer demanded executive ability, good judgment and experience. He hoped that everyone would bear this in mind in nominating anyone for office.

A list of all eligible Freshmen will be posted on the bulletin board at once, together with a schedule of hours in which Mr. J. Malloy, secretary of the Students' Union, will be prepared to receive nomination papers between now and Saturday.

VICE-PRESIDENT ELECTED FOR LIT.

Miss McQueen Succeeds Miss
Manning—Organization Report
—Another International Debate?

Miss Helen McQueen was elected to the position of Vice-President of the Literary Association at the meeting of the Executive of that organization on Tuesday afternoon. Miss McQueen was also appointed as one of the representatives of the Lit. on the Students' Council.

This election was made necessary through the resignation of Miss Helen Manning, who has long been one of the Association's most valued aides. Her resignation, due to pressure of other duties, was accepted with deep regret.

It was arranged that two "Lit. Nights" will be held this term, one about February 15 and one on election night. The orchestra reported excellent progress under the direction of Mrs. Carmichael. The Dramat reported that plans had already been laid for the annual spring play, to be held in the middle of March. The cast has been selected, and the first meeting was held on Monday night. Professor Adam is directing the play.

Mr. Johns, the President of the Debating Society, announced that the inter-varsity debating teams were hard at work; that inter-faculty debating will soon be under way; and that an organization in Great Britain was arranging a tour of four representative debaters from various universities in the British Isles, and that it is expected that a debate with Alberta representatives will be arranged. Mr. Johns promised more definite information in a short space of time.

ATTENTION, GATEWAY STEWES

The Year Book staff have decided to devote a page of the 1924-25 Evergreen and Gold to the activities of graduate students taking whole or part time studies at this University. Since there are more than sixty such students, space will be very limited, but probably about three or four lines will be available for each, in which his or her present activities may be summarized.

All graduate students, whether taking only one course or many, are asked to write such a brief summary of their activities (humorous or otherwise), and hand it as soon as possible to Len Huskins, Room 143 North Lab, or phone 31848 evenings.

THE FRESHMEN ORGANIZE

On or about January 17, the Freshmen will submit the names of nominees, from whom will be selected the first executive of class '28.

The Freshman class, the largest in the University, fills a very important place in spite of its verdancy, and its fortunes are of great interest even to the haughty Sophomore, and apparently nonchalant senior. The Freshmen must pick an executive of sound judgment, energy and resourcefulness, if the Freshman reception is to be staged successfully, and if the later problems of initiation are to be coped with. Furthermore the members of class '28 will be the controllers of student policy, perhaps before that year has arrived, and a spirited beginning on the part of the class now would be the best augury for the continued success of student government.

It is hoped that the Freshmen will keep these points in mind in picking their nominees, and in casting their votes at the election.

Upper classmen as well as themselves are interested in seeing fit choices made. A good choice of candidates would be the best initial step towards a successful start for Varsity's Freshman class.

AN UNFAIR PRACTICE

Several instances have occurred in the past where students have offended against the library regulations, and the rebuke expressed by the Chief Justice in the court case of Wednesday is a timely one.

This case gave simply one instance of a thoughtless and selfish use of library privileges among a small minority of students.

In the past books have been taken from the library without the borrower signing a card; in other cases where a reference book was much in demand, perhaps at examination time, inconsiderate individuals have held it indefinitely for their own use.

Such abuses of the services of the University Library have, it is true, been the exception rather than the rule. Nevertheless, they are manifestly unfair and deserving of the censure of fellow-students as well as the court.

A JUNIOR COLLEGE

In the last issue of The Gateway there was published an epitome of Calgary's arguments for two years of university work to be given in the Institute of Technology. The question of a Junior College has become one of great interest to both business and professional interests in Calgary, and arguments in favor of it are receiving extensive publicity.

Though the likelihood of the Calgary plan being adopted in the near future seems very problematical, such a scheme, if embarked on, would doubtless have a significant effect on this University, both from the aspect of academic work and student life. So, from the student viewpoint, the question of a Junior College has great interest.

Calgary is to be commended on its interest in higher education and its sincere desire to further and not detract from the efficiency of the University here. However, it seems doubtful that in a young province like Alberta a Junior College could be established without lessening the efficiency of the central institution. At the same time, the student at the small college would be under a handicap, for he would be unable to have the facilities for work or to receive the benefits of the student life that would be his at a large central university.

The argument that decentralization would carry the facilities of the University to the young man or woman of moderate means is a commendable one. But would not these students who are thrown on their own resources benefit much more by attending a comparatively large and well-equipped university, even though they had to delay their education for a few years in order to augment their resources? Besides better facilities and greater choice among courses, a central university offers the fellowship of a large body of students, out of which the student receives a training, not the least important in his education at the university.

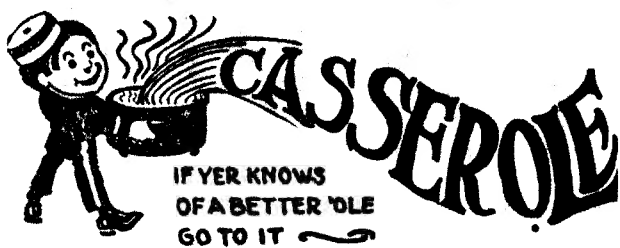

That a Junior College would eventually act as a "feeder" to the University seems quite possible, but that this would offset other disadvantages of the scheme is not so obvious. Even from the student's viewpoint, there would still be the disadvantages mentioned above to face. Furthermore, it is doubtful whether in his last two years at University a student would feel like entering with the same view into the student life, in which so much opportunity is offered him, especially in his less busy junior years.

APROPOS

It is expected that The Gateway's first literary supplement will appear on January 29. The editor of the supplement is already busy on his material, and would appreciate any contribution you may wish to make.

The Varsity hockey team now leads the senior city league. This is a good omen for the success of Varsity sports this winter.

The first Sunday get-together meeting, held in Athabasca lounge, proved a successful experiment, which could be continued with advantage. Such gatherings should help us to forget the scientific, legal, commercial or general cultural pathways that we pursue during the week, and should further that feeling that, after all, we have the interests of our alma mater at heart.

Young dent, after filling teeth of garlic-eater: "Oh, breathes a man with soul so dead!"

Hank: "Say, this chair is feeling awful Wrigley."
Mildred: "Why, I just parked my gum on it."

Athletics

Jack Kelly claims to have established a new world's record for beating a toboggan down suicide slide. He is now engaged in breaking the world's long time standing record, while he has to eat off the mantel.

Johnstone: "She swears she's never been kissed."
B. Duncan: "That's enough to make anyone swear."

The Senior stood on the railroad track—
The train was coming fast.
The train got off the railroad track,
And let the Senior pass.

The Curse

Casserolero finds that this Varsity spirit is decaying. Things are no longer as they used to be. The common rooms are empty and the library is full. A feller can't sit into a crap game anywhere, and even the checker fiends are no longer to be seen. Nobody has any tobacco, and you can't find the men who owe you money. It's the curse of the Crossword puzzle apparently, and while the dictionaries are being worn ragged, so is the spirit of this University.

Testimonial

I have taken six cans of your corn syrup, but my feet are no better.

Another nuisance is the fact that our officious office boy has cleaned out all the old copies of the other University papers, without apparently thinking of the hard work involved in digging up a column of sparkling wit and cutting repartee without the aid of their humorous pages.

CORRESPONDENCE

101 Athabasca Hall,
University of Alberta,
January 12th, 1925.

Editor, The Gateway.

A letter in your last issue, written by one who termed himself "A Non-Resident" (or was that a typographical error for non compus mentus?) made me very indignant. The writer suggests that "it should be the policy of our authorities to zealously preserve" the university "from any resident-veasus-non-resident-student problem," but all the efforts of every one of the "authorities" if directed at nothing else could hardly maintain freedom from the problem if many more such letters are written. I never heard of the question as to whether residents or non-residents were the most skilled dancers or the best conversationalists, and I cannot see how anyone but a deaf-and-dumb, bedridden epileptic could imagine that the question existed. If the student in question is sufficiently interested in student affairs to write to The Gateway he must be a reader of your paper, and have read in an earlier issue that the Committee on Student Affairs was dealing with the Saturday night dances, and that a sub-committee had been appointed to draw up a new set of regulations. Knowing that, he must have known, if a real student, at least a dozen people from whom he could have obtained definite information as to what was going to be done about the dances, yet he takes up valuable space in your paper to protest against a rumor! In the army all rumors emanated from a definite, well-known source, and I should be much surprised if this rumor could not be traced to a similar one. No matter whence its source, however, it is not fair to the large majority of thoughtful students that a person should rush a letter into The Gateway on nothing more definite than a three or four-day-old rumor.

I believe that The Gateway is under no obligation to print letters which it receives, and therefore the proper place for such dangerous immaturities is the W.P.B. All students are interested in matters which affect them as a whole, but let us have no more ears listening to what the wild waves are saying.

For the benefit of "Non-resident" and any other calamity-howler, I append a copy of the resolution governing the Saturday night dances, which was passed at the last meeting of the Committee on Student Affairs. A copy of this resolution could easily be obtained through any member of that committee. See page 11 of the 1924-25 University Calendar.

Yours truly,
CHARLES R. FLACK.

Oafs Are Too Confident—Osterland Dives Well—Cherubs Team Play Wins

Playing before capacity spaces the torreadors disguised under the cognomen of Crawford's Cyclonic Cherubs succeeded in putting to rout the bullfighters or otherwise representing the much advertised Obstreperous Oafs in one of the most daring exhibitions of everything under the sun yet witnessed in these parts, at Jimmy Smith's South Side arena last Sunday morning. Play commenced immediately at chime of the bells, the first act consisting of a solo diving number by Amly Osterland that cannot even be rivalled by the famous Joe Beckett. The other members of the caste, not to be outdone, soon burst in and at the end of the first spasm both goalkeepers had been caught at the small boy's terror twice, and the score stood 2 all. The period as a whole was far faster than the Ponoka fire brigade getting into action, and was certainly wonderful from an outside viewpoint. It was evident from the start that the many rushes of Lloyd Crawford and Porter would not go unrewarded, and within thirty seconds they forced the para into the hempen strands. Eddie Oatman Powell, however, was not to be outdone, and replied with a daring bit of base stealing to even up the score. Crawford and Lloyd again tried the hit and run play and got the third goal, Crawford doing the hitting and both running for fear of slaughter. Duke Muir then showed why he had brought worldly fame both to himself and the gas city, tying up the score by tersichoring along with the rubber disc into the opponents' gas-pipe fixture. This along with the time he notched his first molar undoubtedly will prove the outstanding earmark of his career. The tea-time period arrived with both troupes played in and no further change of score.

The second period opened at a steam roller clip, and Dutton Caldwell, tiring of the monotony, cleverly eluded the entire five oafish forwards, who were draped around the opposing goal, and notched two counters. To be ex-sheriff MacLaren showed the value of his piano moving experience, truck-horsed down the ice and after turning several handsprings by way of dexterity slipped the puck past the awe-stricken opponents to make the score 4-3. Buck Porter, for the Cherubs, got the last counter, and the game ended with the entire exhaustion of all competitors.

For the winners, Caldwell, Leech, Porter, Lloyd, Crawford, Russel and others performed brilliantly, while all members of the Oafs starred, Stoner particularly, notching a goal for the opponents.

The teams played in all positions as follows:
Henderson..... goal ..... Leech
Osterland..... defence ..... Caldwell
O'Brien ..... defence ..... Russel
Cooper..... forwards ..... Porter
Powell ..... Crawford
Stoner ..... Lloyd
McLaren ..... Duke Keats
Galbraith ..... Red Briden
Ferguson ..... Frank Frederickson
Muir

INTERMEDIATES RECEIVE LETTERS

Members of Last Year's Intermediate Basketball Team Receive Single A's at Informal Tea

An informal tea was held in Pembina last Saturday in honor of last year's members of the Ladies' Intermediate Basketball team. Last year the league was not finished in time for the athletic banquet, and the girls of the intermediate team did not receive their entitled single A's. Last Saturday, however, Mr. Race made the presentation, and the following received letters: Jean Folkins, Marjory Weir, Ila Scott, Marjorie Race, Eleanor Mathews, Inez Carlson and Ethel Cobb.

Mr. Race also took the opportunity to present the cup which he donated for inter-varsity women's basketball to Helen Beny, last year's captain of the Alberta team that won the cup. He expressed his delight in being able to present the cup to Alberta, and hoped to see it remain here. Miss Beny then handed the cup to Marguerite Cooper, captain of this year's team, who will strive to defend it.

VARSITY DEFEATS DREADNAUGHTS 3-0

Score Shut-Out Over Sailor Boys in Hard Fought Game

VARSITY FAST ON LARGE SURFACE

Small Attendance Witness Contest—Game Late in Starting

Putting forth a brilliant exhibition of both team work and individual effort, the Varsity senior hockey squad took the Dreadnaughts into camp at the Arena in a scheduled league fixture to the tune of three to nothing. The game was fast from the beginning, and though it was generally considered that the green and gold para chasers would be handicapped on the large ice surface, they deserved their win on the evening's play.

The game, due to the size of the ice, was not as spectacular or thrilling as the opener, but the small number of fans who braved the weather received their money's worth.

The game was some thirty minutes late in starting due to the failure of the sailor boys to put in an appearance, and at that they were only able to field six men. Such a condition of affairs is bound to kill senior hockey, and unless something is done to ensure the fans receiving justice the patronage is bound to drop off.

For the winners, MacDonald in goal as usual put up his stonewall game, and made many miraculous saves, the sea boys resorting chiefly to long shots. Morris, Powers and Lawton on the forward line certainly looked the class with their consistent back-checking and untiring efforts. They were ably backed up by Williams and Range on the defence, who were using their bodies to excellent advantage. Wunk Williams had the misfortune to get a nasty gash in the ribs with a skate, and was forced to retire in the second period, but returned for the final stanza and turned in a fine performance.

For the losers, Paul Poirier, who played for Varsity last year, the Pettis brothers and Dick Howie in goal were the pick. Howie, the hemp minder, shone brilliantly, and it was only his beautiful saves that kept the score down.

The first period opened fast, but was chiefly an exhibition of individual effort, neither team appearing at home on the large ice surface. Twelve minutes after commencement of play, Pat Powers uncorked a beautiful solo effort, completely baffling the Dreadnaughts defence, to score the only goal of the period, and it ended Varsity 1, Dreadnaughts 0.

The second period brought out the best combination, but the teams failed to go in on the net, shooting instead from outside the defence. As a result neither team scored. Wunk Williams was forced to retire this period for repairs, and Morris also left the ice due to a nasty crack on the shins. This permitted Scott, Carney and Foster to show their stuff, Scott playing particularly well, was robbed of a couple of sure goals.

The third period opened with the Varsity squad again intact, and they at once took the offensive, boring well in on the net. Their efforts were soon rewarded, Lawton getting a goal from Scott and towards the end scored again. The game ended 3-0. Harold Deeton as usual handled the game, which was exceptionally clean. Two minor offences, drawing two minutes, were served to Powers and Williams.

The teams lined up as follows:

Dreadnaughts
Howie..... goal .....MacDonald
H. Pettis..... defence .....Williams
Fertig..... forward .....Runge
Poirier..... forward .....Lawton
G. Pettis..... Powers
Bonnarman..... subs .....Foster
Scott..... Carney

Goal Summary—

First period—Varsity, Powers, unassisted, 12:40.

Second period—None.

Third period—None. Varsity, Lawton, from Scott, 5:30; Varsity, Lawton, unassisted, 14:30.

Penalties—

First period—None.

Second period—Williams, 2 mins.; Powers, 2 mins.

Third period—None.

FAIR HOCKEYISTS TRAINING HARD

Many of Last Year's Squad Back To Play For Provincial and Western Universities Titles

For the past two months the fair puck-chasers of the Varsity have been practicing regularly, and are rounding into championship shape. The face of the genial coach, Mike Krause, is clothed in smiles, and he sees nothing but championships for his bobbed hair sextette.

The team is indeed fortunate in having many of last year's squad back again, together with a number of promising newcomers. Beth Caswell, Ruth Becker, Etta Woods and Betty Mahaffy, are again decked on the forward line, while Dorothy McNichol is holding down her old defense position. Francis McMillan looks good behind the goal pads, and though a new comer here, is old at the stick game; Ursula McLatchie, of the Calgary Hollies, is travelling at top speed, and is sure of a place; Jean McLennan of the '22 squad has again returned, and the other newcomers include Josie McCallum, Annie Saul and Gertrude Connors.

The team is entered in the provincial series for which the Dr. Misener cup is given, and will bump up against the Monarchs of Edmonton for the right to play off with Calgary Patricia's and Coleman of the Southern section. The team will also travel to Winnipeg and Saskatoon in quest of the Western Universities championship.

The schedule with the Edmonton Monarchs has not yet been drawn up, but everyone should watch the bulletin board for notice when the girls perform in their new hockey outfits.

FACULTY HOCKEY LEAGUE DRAWN UP

Four-Team League Arranged—Medents vs. Com-Law in Opener

JAN. 16th OPENING DATE

Point System Adopted for Standing—Two Leading Teams to Play Off for Cup

A meeting of the interfaculty hockey representatives was held in the Medical building on January 8th, 1925.

All faculties were represented except Commerce and Pharmacy. It was the original intention of the league management to carefully scrutinize the players at practices, and thus be able to combine the faculties in such a way as to make four as equally balanced teams as possible. But with the late start of practices before Xmas due to the extreme cold weather then prevailing, as well as senior tests, this plan had to be abandoned. The meeting, after a short discussion, decided that the four teams be made up of players from the two faculties which were turning out to practices together. These are:

Team. Faculty Representative.
1. Agriculture ..... Hunter
2. Science ..... Jones
3. Commerce ..... Loo Shulman
4. Law ..... Bobby Harrison
5. Arts ..... Fred Irwin
6. Pharmacy ..... Dave Caldwell
7. Medicine .....
8. Dentistry .....
9. Med Club representative—J. C. Haworth.

The schedule will be run on a point system basis so as to avoid the possibility of having to pay out extra funds for overtime periods; two points will be given for a win, one point to each team for a tie, and zero for the loser.

All teams, in spite of the scarcity of practice hours, are showing lots of pep and enthusiasm. There has been as many as twenty odd players out to some of the tryouts for each team. The league promises to be the most keenly contested in some years, and some very excellent material is lined up on all teams.

All students who will direct their daily constitutional walks after labs to the South Side covered rink on the dates of interfaculty hockey games will be more than repaid for their trouble by the brand of hockey that promises to be displayed. All games are free, and at the South Side covered rink. The schedule calls for each team to meet the other twice, and is as follows:

Friday, Jan. 16—From 5 to 6 p.m., Medents vs. Comm-Law.

Saturday, Jan. 17—From 3 to 4 p.m., Ag-Sci vs. Arts-Pharm.

Friday, Jan. 23—From 5 to 6 p.m., Comm-Law vs. Ag-Sci.

Saturday, Jan. 24—From 3 to 4 p.m., Arts-Pharm vs. Medents.

Friday, Jan. 30—From 5 to 6 p.m., Medents vs. Ag-Sci.

Saturday, Jan. 31—From 3 to 4 p.m., Arts-Pharm vs. Comm-Law.

Friday, Feb. 6—From 5 to 6 p.m., Comm-Law vs. Medents.

Saturday, Feb. 7—From 3 to 4 p.m., Arts-Pharm vs. Ag-Sci.

Friday, Feb. 13—From 5 to 6 p.m., Ag-Sci vs. Comm-Law.

Saturday, Feb. 14—From 3 to 4 p.m., Medents vs. Arts-Pharm.

Friday, Feb. 20—From 5 to 6 p.m., Ag-Sci vs. Medents.

Saturday, Feb. 21—From 3 to 4 p.m., Comm-Law vs. Arts-Pharm.

The two top teams will play off for the cup, home and home games, with total goals to count. In the event of a three-cornered tie, the team that has to its credit the best goal average for the season will get the bye into the finals.

Come on all you hockey fans, take that hour after a tiring lab, for a refreshing hike over to the rink to support your team, and incidentally work up a good appetite for supper.

MEN'S BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

The following is a four-game series arranged between Varsity and the overtown team for the Northern Alberta championship. Keep these games in mind and keep the dates open.

Jan. 20—Varsity at 49th.

Jan. 24—49th at Varsity.

Jan. 27—Varsity at 49th.

Jan. 31—49th at Varsity.

49th home grounds are at the Armories.

League Standing

P. W. L. F. A. Pt.

Varsity ..... 2 2 0 7 2 4

Dreadnaughts ..... 3 1 2 5 9 2

Victorias ..... 3 1 2 8 9 2

By defeating the Victorias Monday night 3-2 the Dreadnaughts tied up for second place, and incidentally tightened Varsity's hold on the top position, as both other teams have played one game more.

LADY BASKETEERS TO PLAY SERIES

Varsity and Varsconas to Play Off for Right to Meet Commercial Grads

After several weeks of diligent practice the Senior Women's Basketball team will soon be seen in action. The Northern Alberta division this year in which the seniors are entered consists of three teams, the Varsconas, a team composed chiefly of Varsity grads, the world-famous Commercial Grads and the Varsity. The Commercial Grads have obtained a bye, and will play the winners of a two-game series between the other two teams. These two games have not yet been scheduled, but will take place in the near future.

The women hoop artists will have the pleasure of entertaining the fair sex of Manitoba, who are out in quest of the cup donated by Mr. Race on January 30th. Should the defense be successful a further challenge is likely to come from B.C. This game would undoubtedly prove a super-attraction, as it would prove a new feature in western competition.

The Intermediate girls' team have entered in the Provincial League, but as yet no schedule has been adopted. There will in all probability be four or five teams in the league. Eleanor Williams has been elected captain, and the girls have been training faithfully under the able coaching of Syd Stephens for the past month.

HOUSE LEAGUE TO START SOON

"A" and "B" Sections to be Included—"A" Section to Consist of Six Teams, and Are Eligible for Shield

With the completion of a successful pre-Christmas league, House League basketball will again resume action within the course of the next week. The league before Christmas proved entirely successful, and though only operating in the form of a practice tournament, uncovered much new material for the new section.

The league will consist of two sections, "A" and "B". "A" section will be composed of six teams of eight men each, and only those players who showed ability and willingness to attend in the first league will be eligible. "B" section will be composed of players unfamiliar with the game, and will provide opportunity for newcomers to learn the fine points.

In order to have the league a success all games will have to be started on time. This means players failing to report on time or putting in a late appearance will not add to the success, and will be dropped. The winners of "A" section will be eligible for the House League shields, and will also hold the cup given for one year.

Lists have been posted on both the bulletin boards in Athabasca and

SCIENCE

Page One: All orators are asked to get in touch with C. E. White to form a debating team to represent Science in the inter-faculty debates. These debates start very soon, and it is time preparations were being made.

Last Saturday the Science puck chasers turned out for their first practice at the South Side rink. Not many of last year's team are back, and a new squad will have to be formed. Any who wish to try out for the team watch the bulletin boards for notices of practices.

On Friday afternoon the willing workers are asked to turn out at the Power Plant and help carry the decorations for the Undergrad Dance over to Athabasca Hall. One still hears comments on the last Science Undergrad dance, so let not the record be lowered, and make the coming dance an equal success.

MEDICINE

Some New Year resolutions from the fourth year:

To follow knowledge like a shining star and in all ways be diligent. To know the stages of anaesthesia, but not to simulate them in tests. To follow faithfully in the footsteps of two of the shining lights of the class, but, above all, to remember that knowledge is not all with the wise. To woo Delafield as the fairest of maidens, demanding time and patience, but above all to know her cold. To be a scribe, compounding knowledge in a systematic fashion with all eyes for possible question marks, and above all to call a spade a spade.

The second year Meds are glad to welcome back Jimmy Calder, who, during Christmas week, was operated on at the Lamont hospital, for appendicitis. The wee and genial Jimmy has been greatly missed especially by three members of group three, anatomy.

It is rumored that Lew Cockle is to write a treatise entitled "A Night of the Garter." The data was collected during Christmas week. How about it, Lew?

LAW

The news of the death of Mr. Weir's mother came as a matter of great regret to the members of the Law Club, and the sympathy of the students goes out to Mr. Weir in his great loss.

Due to a business engagement, R. B. Bennett, K.C., who is to give the address at the Law banquet, will not be able to be in the city on January 16th. For that reason the banquet will be postponed one week.

DENT. EXTRACTIONS

After what is acclaimed by all as a very pleasant holiday, we are back again for another term's hard labor. Let's make it the best term Dentistry ever had at Alberta.

Don't forget the Medent hockey game on Friday. Let's turn out and help put "Dentistry" on the inter-faculty cup for the fourth consecutive year.

On Monday evening the third year students were the guests of the Edmonton Dental Association at a banquet at the Macdonald Hotel. Dr. Henneker, of Calgary, gave a paper on Dr. Winter's method of extracting impacted third molars. This and the following discussion were extremely interesting. Short speeches were also given by Dr. Mason, Dr. Hamilton and Jack Gerrie.

A good New Year's resolution: An article a month for "Dent. Extractions."

Pay your deposit on a Year Book right away to Vic Lloyd.

The third year Dents have issued a challenge to the third year Meds to a game of teams met last year, and the Dents were hockey, which has been accepted. These victorious 3-2; and now the Meds are out for revenge. A full turnout of the third year Dents is urged—that includes you, Joe.

AGRICULTURE

It is a matter of deep regret to us all that Ted Brunson, the popular and capable secretary of the Agricultural Club, has been so seriously ill that he has been forced to drop his course and go home. Ted is by no means out of the woods yet, and the sincere wishes of the faculty for his speedy recovery go to him in Calgary.

Times are getting harder, all right. Usually quite a few graduates of the Olds School of Agriculture attend the annual reunion, but this year Miss Bertie Edgar was Varsity's sole representative.

Bill Gentleman has forsaken his native caution and taken to skiing. Rumor has it that he nearly annihilated a team of horses while descending the river road to Mayfair Club.

The first meeting of the Ag Club for the new year took place on Wednesday at 4:30. The feature of the program was an illustrated address by Mr. Corbett of the Extension Department, on the Belkirk settlement, which every one greatly enjoyed.

Jack Howe has been elected to fill the position of secretary left vacant since Ted Brunson's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, men of "Daddy" among the fifth year medics.

The executive of the Med Club did well meeting. The doctor's topic was of general interest, and his wit and illustration made his address a very vivid one.

ARTS

Word has been received by the committee in charge of the selection of an Arts pin that these emblems will be shipped from Toronto by January 15th. It is sincerely hoped by the members of this committee that those who signed their names to the list will lose no time in interviewing either Rache Dickson, Fred Irwin, or Miss Eubank, and fulfilling their orders.

The Arts Club are to have the privilege of hearing Dr. Broadus speak at their monthly meeting to be held next Monday afternoon. A report will be made at this meeting of the work done by the Pin Committee. In addition, tea will be served. All members of the club are asked to come, and in ecclesiastical parlance, to bring their friends.

Med Nite will soon be upon us again. Arts having taken the lead in so many affairs inter-faculty, should not allow this excellent opportunity of displaying their superiority over the other faculties to pass unheeded. Quips, cracks, and jests; songs and anthems; cheers and cat-calls; we can't have enough of these for inter-faculty night. The medics, with their ancient and time-dishonored witticisms about the human frame and its anatomy, are becoming a trifle boring. We, the Freshies amongst the faculties, should be able to step up and reduce their mirth to mourning; their wise cracks to weeping. Let's go.

SUNDAY SERVICE

Canon Carruthers, of Holy Trinity Church, will be the speaker at the Sunday morning service in Convocation Hall.

SATURDAY DANCE RESOLUTION

Report of the sub-committee appointed by the Committee on Student Affairs to bring in a report on the Saturday night dances:

Informal Dances
That permission be granted to hold an informal dance in the gymnasium each Saturday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 under the auspices of the House Committee and subject to the approval of the Provost.

That this dance be not held if a major function occurs during the week. (The following are to be considered as major functions: (1) Sophomore Reception, (2) Junior Reception, (3) Undergraduate Dance, (4) Freshman Reception, (5) Waukegan Reception, (6) Colonial Ball, (7) Inter-Year Plays, (8) Major Play of Dramatic Society, (9) Med Night, (10) Christmas Dinner, (11) Pembina France.)

That if any University function or University event of exceptional nature, which the majority of the students may reasonably be supposed to attend (as, for example, the Oxford-Alberta debate) takes place during the week, the House Committee may cancel the dance.

That if insufficient attendance threatens a financial loss from these dances, the House Committee may suspend them until it deems that sufficient attendance can be obtained.

That these dances be open to graduates and their wives, members of the staff and their wives, students and their wives, and to no others.

That no refreshments be served. That notification of cancellation or suspension be posted in Aahthasca and Pembina not later than Thursday noon in the week in which the dance is not to be held.

That the advisor to women students be asked to act as patroness to such functions, or to arrange for someone to take her place, not later than Wednesday noon.

DR. COLLIP RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON

The convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science was held at Washington during the week ending January 3, and this University once more came to the forefront in the person of Dr. J. B. Collip, whose paper read before the society was very well received. Dr. Collip and Dr. Tory, who attended the same convention, returned to the city early this week.

Every branch of science was represented at the convention, where about three thousand were present. Both sectional and joint sessions were held, and it was before the Biochemical section that Dr. Collip presented the results of his research.

EXCHANGE

Alberta isn't the only place which is inhabited, along with other freaks, by many foolish freshmen. These are some of the enlightening answers given by freshmen at exams at McGill and at New York State:

"Georgia was founded by people who had been executed."
"A mountain pass is a pass given by railroads to their employees so they can spend their vacations in the mountains."
"Dew is caused by the sweating of the earth."

"The stomach forms a part of Adam's apple."

"One of the causes of the disintegration of the Roman Empire was taxation without representation."

"Another cause of the disintegration was immorality, which caused men and women to go off and live by themselves as hermits and nuns."

"A cause of this disintegration was the nursing of Roman babies by degenerate nurses."
"Another cause of the disintegration was the fact that the policemen went out on the wild parties at night and couldn't arrest offenders the next day."

DR. KLOTZ OUTLINES MEDICAL CONDITIONS

work that the Rockefeller Foundation recently saw fit to endow the institution to the extent of $1,000,000. From a stage where, at the beginning, thirty microscopes were used for twelve hundred students, conditions were so changed that a very good practical course was given.

Interesting Contrasts

Many interesting contrasts might be drawn from Dr. Klotz's address between conditions in Canada and Brazil. The people of the big Latin country are from 70 to 90 per cent. illiterate, and only two years of free elementary education is provided. Conditions in Brazilian hospitals are instanced by the fact that in a ward originally designed for thirty patients seventy-five may be crowded in, while during the evening no service is provided these patients, who must help each other. The Brazilian surgeon, though adept of technique, neglects often to provide aseptic conditions, so that the setting in of complications after an operation is a common occurrence. Conditions of cities in the interior are usually most unsanitary. On the other hand, Rio de Janeiro is one of the world's most beautiful cities, and its sanitation approaches perfection.

Tropical Diseases

Before closing, the speaker treated in a general way the diseases peculiar to the tropics. The conception of Brazil as a harbinger of all diseases is a fallacy. Plague has been eradicated, yellow fever is found in only one or two districts, there is no cholera, and malaria occurs only in a few swampy regions. But there are 5,000 lepers in San Paulo, while 100 per cent. hookworm infection is common in country districts.

Then there are diseases peculiar to the tropics. Shagrus disease is caused by a tripanosome. It occurs in childhood, but after-effects appearing years later may manifest themselves in the thyroid gland as a well-developed goitre, in affection of the brain or in diseasing the heart. Other forms of disease are tropical ulcers, infection being transmitted as in the case of the first mentioned disease by certain insects.

CUPS OF TEA AND OTHER THINGS

In honor of the girls' basketball team, Miss Beth Caswell, president of Women's Athletics, and Miss Marguerite Cooper entertained at tea on Saturday afternoon in Nurse Hayes' sitting room. After tea, Mr. C. E. Race presented the cup, of which he is the donor, to Miss Helen Beny, manager of last year's victorious team. Miss Beny gave it to Miss Cooper, this year's manager, as representative of the team which is to defend it.

The girls of last year's intermediate team who there received single A pins (for having represented the Varsity in three games) were: Jean Folkins, Ethel Cobb, Ila Scott, Eleanor Matthews, Marjorie Weir, Bea Buckley, Marjorie Race, Inez Carson's pin was sent to her.

The Misses Ethel Cobb, Gladys Sorenson, Eva Jagoe and Dorothy Hartshorn entertained a large number of their friends at tea in Pembina, on Sunday afternoon.
